January 1, 2019

Dear Governor Gordon, Members of the Wyoming State Legislature, and Wyoming residents:

On behalf of the Wyoming State Advisory Council on Juvenile Justice (SACJJ), I am pleased to present you with the 2018 Annual Report.

2017 marked the last full year of the current three-year strategic plan, and thus the Council sought to address all remaining achievable goals as well as develop a new 3 year strategic plan. During 2018, the SACJJ continued efforts and activities that target the work of our Strategic Plan and updated goals and objectives to keep the council focused for the next 3 years.

The SACJJ held five meetings in five different Wyoming communities. We were proud of the involvement of our membership in each location. It continued to be of utmost importance to the SACJJ that we recognize the unique qualities and practices of every Wyoming community, and continue to reach out and be available to receive input and information from various communities. The community presentations and community input we receive at our Council meetings has greatly assisted us in identifying unique barriers to providing quality services to juveniles, while allowing the stakeholders to share their successes.

The SACJJ worked diligently in 2018 to continue collaboration with the Wyoming Department of Family Services to establish a statewide data collection system, even as ongoing budgetary cutbacks threatened to impact these efforts. The Council continues to believe that through quality data collections appropriate recommendations as to how best serve juveniles in Wyoming can and will be made. Identifying community-level efforts, successes, and challenges through this continued data collection process are essential to reaching effective juvenile justice standards statewide.

The SACJJ, in collaboration with Volunteers of America - Northern Rockies and Governor Mead, awarded Albany County with the 2018 Neal Madson Best Practices in Juvenile Justice Award. We continued strong membership involvement at meetings by utilizing teleconferencing for members who were unable to travel for various reasons. The SACJJ has also continued efforts to recruit and maintain youth membership. We heard and recognized that communities are concerned about funding for prevention and diversion opportunities and programming to keep juveniles out of the justice system. We also acknowledge the creative and necessary decisions that communities are implementing to address these challenges.

The Wyoming State Advisory Council on Juvenile Justice will continue working toward improving the juvenile justice system in Wyoming. We welcome your feedback, and thank you for taking time to review our Annual Report.

Sincerely,

Allison Anderson, Chairman
Wyoming State Advisory Council on Juvenile Justice

2018 Council Recommendations

Based on statewide visits and various community presentations and input, the following themes were identified:

- Intense substance abuse issues
- Need for more foster families
- Need for access to mental health services
- Desire for more training opportunities for case workers

Based on these themes, the Council developed the following recommendations:

- 1) This Council recommends ongoing and additional state, county, and community-level funding support for programs engaging youth in positive ways, in an effort to reduce long-term expenditures for children in the juvenile justice arena. As a Council, we recognize and support the investment of prevention dollars being a lower-cost alternative than the placement of children in detention, which is also supported by national data.
- 2) Due to the significant increase in children with mental health issues coming into care and the juvenile justice system in Wyoming, it is the recommendation of this Council that the Governor look into any opportunities that would provide more intensive empirically supported mental health treatment services statewide.
- 3) The Council is committed to working to identify opportunities for: 1) The provision of training and technical assistance to Wyoming's communities, 2) To collaborate with communities in order to support effective alternatives for detention, and 3) To identify existing local resources in order to avoid compliance violations.
- 4) To establish a more consistent, statewide understanding of diversion options and best practices for children, this Council recommends the State of Wyoming invest time and/or dollars into research and training options for all entities working with the juvenile justice system.
- 5) This Council recommends the State provide verbal and, when reasonable, financial support to local communities to maintain community-based diversion programming, crisis shelters, and other community-based resources working to keep youth out of detention facilities, when appropriate.
- 6) This Council encourages the continued relationships and involvement of ex-officio members from the Governor's Office, Wyoming Legislature, Wyoming Attorney General's Office, Wyoming Department of Education, Wyoming Department of Health, Wyoming Department of Family Services, and all other applicable entities, to ensure the best representation and collaboration around improving the Wyoming juvenile justice system.
- 7) This Council would recommend identifying community-level efforts, successes, and challenges through data collection, which is essential to reaching effective juvenile justice standards statewide.
